* What is our deeply and widely felt issue? * What is our "message" about this issue that will unite our co-workers? * Who are we trying to influence/change/convince? * What do we think/know will move them? * What will we consider a victory/what is our goal? * How many people do we need? Who? * What tactics/actions fit this situation?

* What tactics are people willing to do?
* What tactics do we start with?
* What tactics might we move to if necessary?
* How will we keep people informed and involved?
* How will we reassess as we go along?
* What can management do to counter our campaign? How will we deal with that?
