

TWIN CITIES TROUBLEMAKERS SCHOOL

SATURDAY, MARCH 18, 2017
9 A.M. – 4 P.M.

It's bigger than one workplace. Budget-cutting politicians and greedy corporations in Minnesota are pushing a coordinated agenda.

They want to slash wages, abolish pensions, outsource jobs, and gut public services. President Trump and his cronies are pushing for national right-to-work legislation as well as other policy attacks on unions, immigrants, public schools, and everyone's access to health care.

Minnesota union members and activists are going to have to build power and increase pressure locally and nationally. Luckily, rank-and-file leaders and organizers are coming together March 18 to build skills and share strategies to unite and fight back.

WORKSHOPS WILL INCLUDE:

- Secrets of a Successful Organizer: Beating Apathy
- Assertive Grievance Handling
- Contract Campaigns That Win
- Preparing for Right to Work

LOCATION:

Metropolitan State University
New Main building
(Great Hall)
700 7th Street East
Saint Paul, MN
55106

PRICE:

$20, lunch included.

$10 Student and low-income

Contact Samantha at samantha@labornotes.org or (718) 284-4144 for more details. Childcare is available, to request email samantha@labornotes.org.